

Woods Walk - Example of Determining Lewis Classes and Place Awards

(Lewis Classes A, B, C, and Places 1, 2, 3)

Using test data, the spreadsheet below provides sample results to illustrate how we determine Lewis Classes and Place Awards for the Woods Walk Match.

Gun Classes

Three Gun Classes will be used:

- Stock Centerfire (Iron Sights)
- Stock Rimfire (Iron Sights)
- Open Gun (Centerfire or Rimfire with Red Dots)

Shooters may shoot in more than one Gun Class (limit 2).

Each Gun Class is handled separately for awards.

In this example, all shooters are in Stock Centerfire Class.

We use the rules below to determine Lewis Classes and Place Awards.

The same rules would be used to determine awards for the shooters in other Gun Classes.

Number of Paid Shooters

We have 43 paid shooters shown, ranked in descending order by Score. Ties are shown in order of initial of Last Name.

Lewis Classes

We divide the total number of shooters by 3 to establish Lewis Classes A, B, and C.

Any remainder goes into Class C.

In this example, Lewis Classes A and B each contain 14 shooters. Lewis Class C contains 15.

Payout Pots

A minimum of 50% of Fees taken in is placed into a Total Payout Pot and awarded in cash back to the shooters. The remainder, less any match expenses, goes to the club treasurer as profit.

The Total Payout Pot for the shooters is divided among Lewis Classes A, B, and C using a 40/30/30% split to create Class Payout Pots.

Place Awards

Within each Lewis Class, Place Awards for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Place are given to the top 3 shooters in each Lewis Class using a 50/30/20% split of their allocated Class Payout Pot.

Any tie score situations, which can cross Lewis Class dividing lines, split their awards evenly.

We have set up some examples below to illustrate how tie score situations are handled when determining Place Awards. See Comments for explanations of how it works.

Award Rules

Lewis Class Place Awards will be paid back to the shooters in cash.

The Place Award amounts are determined using our Lewis Class Payout Calculator, which is programmed with agreed-upon formulas to establish payout pots, and provide fair and balanced distribution of awards across all Lewis Classes regardless of the number of shooters.

Any ties for Place Awards are split evenly.

Awards are rounded to the nearest dollar to avoid using coins.

Certificates of Recognition are awarded to the Winners of each Gun Class.
